

The 2000 University of Chicago Scavenger Hunt List

The University of Chicago Scavenger Hunt Organization Committee

14 May 2000

Scav Olympics

1. _____ In honour of our Greek ancestors, since, as we know, we're all descended from the Greeks—hell, even the Gawain-poet goes off on this, and he's, like, from Knights' Ages—we shall begin the Judgment with a medley race. IN BED. [50 points for first place, 25 points for second place, 10 points for third place, and 2 points for good-faith participation]
 1. Is that nag Echo still saying my name? Run a lap backwards, staring at yourself in a mirror.
 2. Perhaps in disguise Hera will never find me! Next lap? Next runner is dressed as his favourite judge. The runner must yell "I want to be (this judge) so that I may impregnate Leda!" All the way around. Should the favourite judge be female, we'll be content with "I want to be (this judge) so that I may tell Orion to put it back in his pants!" (Orion having lusted after the totally crush-worthy Artemis.)
 3. I detest Troy. Troy is a boil on the toe of humanity. You get the idea. Disparage and denigrate an opposing team creatively while running this lap.
 4. At least Sisyphus's rock was a total unit. Yes, now take a lap, carrying no less than $100 in nickels.
 5. I can't have stolen Apollo's oxen, for I am but a babe. This time, a teammate must be carried like little Hermes was. Be glad we didn't say "like baby Dionysos was."
 6. Chronos! Stop eating the baby! During this lap, eat your spawn, which, luckily, have the shape, texture, and appearance of cocktail-weiner sandwiches. Note, however, that though Chronos only had six children, your seed has planted enough sprouts to last the whole lap.
 7. Forget it. Run this lap like the Greeks used to run their races.
2. _____ This is our obligatory The Professional item. You fill up a vessel with an area of at least 2 square metres and with a depth of at least 5 centimetres with milk, and drink it all. No cups, no mugs allowed...the judges can throw cookies at them if the team provides them. [50 points for first place, 25 points for second place, 10 points for third place, and 2 points for good-faith participation]
3. _____ Never before has boy wanted more. At the captain's meeting, your team must present a teammate for weigh-in, barely clothed. At the end of the ScavOlympics, this teammate will be weighed again. The idea? That teammate better have put on a whole lot of weight. [50 points for the largest weight difference, 25 points for second largest, 10 points for third, and 2 points for good-faith participation]
4. _____ Le Troisième Fumerama, en Trois Parties. [Points will be given based on speed of reduction of the smokes to butts and on total butts smoked. 50 points for first place, 25 points for second place, 10 points for third place, and 2 points for good-faith participation]
 1. Acquire a sum of cigarettes deemed "obscene."
 2. Insert the cigarettes into a single apparatus which either can be constructed, or can just be a person's mouth. The cigarettes must remain intact.
 3. Smoke 'em, since you got 'em.
5. _____ Burm-A-Launch. This is not a stock event. A can of shaving cream—not gel, cream—can be modified in any way to make it propel the cream the farthest of all the teams. The cream is the only substance that may be propelled, so no launching model rockets with whole cans—or even a baggie-full of cream—attached. Only the cream can move along the x axis. [50 points for first place, 25 points for second place, 10 points for third place, and 2 points for good-faith participation]
6. _____ Mud Julius. Your team blends up their team's very own smoothie-type-thing and brings it to the judges on Sunday. You can use anything; anything, that is, you'd be willing to drink yourselves. One person from each team enters a random drawing, and the first person to finish the quart they've drawn wins. The only catch is that you may get your own. So be careful. [50 points for first place, 25 points for second place, 10 points for third place, and 2 points for good-faith participation]

7. _____ Pelotons. Each team must form a peloton with at least 7 members. The peloton must then take a lap around the “B-School Quad.” Points will be given for both largest peloton and fastest finish (that is, the last member of the peloton who crosses’s time). If the peloton falls apart, you lose points. Cohesion of the peloton is judged by the judge. [50 points for first place, 25 points for second place, 10 points for third place, and 2 points for good-faith participation. 26 bonus points for pulling cyclists from the race around the Midway. 16 bonus points for a row of fans ready with drinks for your Peloton. -10 bonus points for serving coffee. 0 points for road rash]
8. _____ The Whirling Dervish. A team member from each team spins in place. Competitors not spinning fast enough (as deemed by the judges) will be disqualified. The last competitor to stop spinning wins the competition. [50 points for first place, 25 points for second place, 10 points for third place, and 2 points for good-faith participation]
9. _____ Teem kaptin speling B. During the Scavolympics, the team captains will gather—each wearing a three-cornered cap—and face each other in a spelling bee. [50 points for first place, 25 points for second place, 10 points for third place, and 2 points for good-faith participation]
10. _____ It’s time to crush some glass and get ready for real high-flying excitement. Your team has to build a kite equipped for battle, and then fly it in our Samurai Battle Kite Battle on Saturday at 5 p.m. Only kites may contact other kites. No kiteflyers contacting other kiteflyers. A charming way to spend a Saturday afternoon, this Battle rewards the last kite left standing. All battlers, additionally, must remain on the same patch of the Midway during their battling. In case of inclement weather, suck it up. [50 points for first place, 25 points for second place, 10 points for third place, and 2 points for good-faith participation]
11. _____ ScavPong. At <http://scavhunt.uchicago.edu/pong>, we have a pong game for you. Play it. [70 points for the first team to reach a play time of over 36 hours. 50 points for the second, 20 points for the third, and 2 points for all teams that reach 10 hours]
12. _____ A slowing comes across the sky. Build an item that can fly unassisted and enter it in our race. The last item to cross the finish line is the winner, just like in golf. [50 points for last place, 25 points for penultimate place, 10 points for antepenultimate place, and 2 points for getting something in the air]
13. _____ AssRace. A race across some sod on the Quad. Each team may enter one contestant who has to cross a section of the Quad-sod with only their ass touching the ground (this includes body parts touching via clothing, shoes, etc.). Other members of the team can help, but they cannot be on the grass. The ass, itself, can only make contact with the Quad-sod via either bare, sweet, naked assness, or the most negligible of cloth covering, to maintain a sweet sense of decency, or rather, of bare, sweet, naked assness. [50 points for first place, 25 points for second place, 10 points for third place, and 2 points for good-faith participation]
14. _____ Sexadecimal fizz-buzz. Each team fields one counter, who joins the other teams in counting up, in sexadecimal. But in this version, numbers that are multiples of 5 (base-10) are said as “fizz” and numbers that are multiples of 7 (base-10) are said as “buzz.” If you miss a number, miscount, or whatever, then you sit. Full of shame. [50 points for first place, 25 points for second place, 10 points for third place, and 2 points for good-faith participation]
15. _____ Hit me baby one more time! Britney Spears is, luckily, on your team. So is Christina Aguilera. While singing, and slinging Jell-O, they will show who, truly, deserves the Golden Mouseketeer Ears. That earlier part, about the slinging of Jell-O, must happen. We will determine superior performances based upon the following criteria: similarity in appearance, demeanour, and singing ability to each super star, eagerness with which each star tries to dim the other (with, again, Jell-O), and, on top of everything, incorporation of simultaneous dance sequences and musically timed finishing moves. [50 points for first place, 25 points for second place, 10 points for third place, and 2 points for good-faith participation]
16. _____ We close the ScavOlympics with a chance for your team’s chef’s skills to be celebrated forever. Your chef, dressed in a manner befitting an Iron Chef, will compete with the other teams’ chefs to create a series of dishes that best exemplifies our theme ingredient. The ingredient will be released at 10 a.m. The preparation will occur on the Quad, so bring your Colemans along. Tasting, by a special panel of judges which includes a fortune teller, will begin at noon. [150 points for first place, 100 points for second place, 75 points for third place, and 20 points for good-faith participation. 200 bonus points if you get Ming Tsai, Emeril Lagasse, Mario Batali, or Bobby Flay to be a guest judge. -200 points if Bobby brings along Jacqui. 60 bonus points if Bobby jumps on top of a table and starts to chant "USA! USA! USA!" 34 bonus points if you get any of these guest judges to actually be your team's designated challenger chef. 30 bonus points if you create identifiably Portuguese dishes, and 20 extra bonus points if you have Emeril gush over them, saying they're just like the kind his mother used to make back in "Fa' Hreevuh." 13 bonus points if you create a hot meal without using a stove or anything involving plugs or fire. 90 bonus points if you can present Emeril stone cold sober. 35 bonus points if Chairman Kaga sues us for defamation of character, and 50 extra bonus points if he appears in person. 20 bonus points if Chairman Kaga finishes declaring his summons with a rendition of "What Have I Done" from Les Misérables, and 50 extra bonus points if he closes with a few lines from "Castle on a Cloud."]

Items

1. _____ Convince WHPK to air, during the afternoon or evening, your show, “Our Team Brings you the *NSYNC Hour.” Play only teenaged boy bands. Playing Anotha’ Bad Creation is pushing it. Playing your team’s “ScavHunt Mambos Nos. 1–4” (from Item 16) is even better. [88.5/2 points]
2. _____ Who was the boss: Tony or Angela? Support your answer in a 5 page essay, to be published on the ScavHunt website. Papers are due by 10 a.m. Friday morning. Papers will be graded on persuasiveness and coherency of argument, writing style, and judge’s personal bias. [13 points]
3. _____ TBA.
4. _____ Galactoborico from Greektown. Item to be disposed of at judges’ discretion. [15 points]
5. _____ Royalty. [2 points]
6. _____ Throbin must be crowned Chick of the Night at America’s Original Sports Bar. If Throbin cannot win, then we need photos showing that Throbin tried. [90 points. 26 points for just a measly attempt]
7. _____ Slice a banana before peeling it without destroying the peel or banana. [8 points]
8. _____ A complete reënactment of Britney Spears’ “Crazy” video, complete with handstanding dancers and a Melissa Joan Hart look alike. Must be the “Stop” remix. [28, no, 36 points]
9. _____ Have the judges play a game of Ancient Art of War. [8 points]
10. _____ Peanuts, Mr. Bond? In honour of feasting, the judges invite you to participate in the MI6 pot-luck dinner on Saturday. For every Bond movie (no, Casino Royale doesn’t count, dipshit) present a dish that incorporates the theme of the movie, be it betrayal, voodoo, or Pussy Galore. Teams will be assigned the movies for which they’ll have to cook during the Captains’ meeting. Two portions per dish, presented during the Samurai Battle Kite Battle. [35 points]
11. _____ What is inscribed on Gerald Ford’s irons? [6 points]
12. _____ That yellow Testarossa we saw in front of the Florian in March. [63 points]
13. _____ Enrage as many RSOs as possible. [2 points given per public outrage and denoucement of your team. 15 bonus points for demanding of expulsion published in a campus newspaper. 30 bonus points for convincing protests in the streets]
14. _____ According to Caetano Veloso (and Os Mutantes), what’s written on his shirt? [6 points]
15. _____ Throbin, in a Dairy Queen polo shirt, at Judgment. [14 points]
16. _____ Your team is riding the boyband wave into certain wealth. On Thursday night at 8 p.m. in the C-Shop, your band, dressed appropriately and pre-choreographed, will perform their chart-topping single, “ScavHunt Mambos Nos. 1–4.” This is not an opportunity to do an MTV-esque “satire” of boybands. This is an opportunity to be insightful, entertaining, concise, and hot. For starters, while The Bloodhound Gang has a good idea with monkey suit uniforms, you may want to reach higher (while still, natch, incorporating the monkey suit uniforms). [107 points maximum]
17. _____ A letter, on Cornell University stationary, from President-Elect Tony Randall, officially endorsing your Scavenger Hunt team. [8 points]
18. _____ A working model of The Ultimate Nullifier. [2 points]
19. _____ If you have ghosts, you call Ghostbusters. But who do you call if you have chimpanzee acne or moose bumps? What’s the telephone number? Will it cost a lot? [2 points]
20. _____ Present us with the most ridiculous cassette you found and bought at a truckstop during the road trip. [6.95 points]
21. _____ A can of Beverley. [10 points. 10 bonus points for drinking it]

- 22._____ Spray on hair. [6 points. 12 bonus points if this item is presented by a man in white, singing the “Thong Song.” 82 extra bonus points if the man is Sisqó. 31 bonus points if he “unleashes the Dragon”]
- 23._____ Photos of Batdude and Throbin both on the Cottage Grove and in Cottage Grove. [6 points]
- 24._____ Prove that a U of C diploma has the absorbing power of Brawny Brand paper towels. [75 points]
- 25._____ That cool Hot Wheels computer. [9 points]
- 26._____ ¿Quantas primaveras tiene Montse? [3 points]
- 27._____ Split a map of the USA into Flavour Country and Jesus Country. [4 points]
- 28._____ A Cat in a Hat. A Hepcat in a Hat. Hello Kitty’s Vitties, and a signed affidavit from Sanrio giving your team exclusive marketing rights on Badtz Maru themed bondage clamps. And we do want to see the clamps used on someone. [19 points]
- 29._____ Erotic ice sculptures showing conclusively that the angle of the dangle is proportional to the heat of the meat. [50 points]
- 30._____ What sponsor does the University of Chicago share with the current site of the historical Queen Bee Mill? [10 points]
- 31._____ scavhuntbylaws.tex. It must compile on harper.uchicago.edu. It also must be emailed to the judges by noon, Saturday. The Word version, with guidelines for formatting, is available at <http://scavhunt.uchicago.edu/scavbylaws> [26 points]
- 32._____ In 1999, the Minnehaha County Historical Society erected a giant phallus called “The Pioneer Memorial.” How many rows of bricks tall is it? [26 points]
- 33._____ Send to the Judges by regular (non-registered) mail a five dollar bill in a “window” envelope (of Regenstein fame, so the bill is plainly visible). Points awarded only if letter is delivered to the judges in good to excellent condition, as determined by official United States Postal Service guidelines (teams will be responsible for demonstrating good to excellent condition to judges; certification in person by an employee of the United States Postal Service, clothed in official United States Postal Service attire, will be accepted as sufficient proof of letter condition). [35 points. 20 bonus points if, upon certification of letter condition, the employee of the United States Postal Service takes a judge for a tire-peeling ride around the Midway Plaisance in an official United States Postal Service delivery vehicle]
- 34._____ Garbage Pail Kids cards. (First series only, punks) [10 points per card; 50 points maximum. 10 bonus points for “Adam Bomb”]
- 35._____ Pose in front of the birthplace of Marion Robert Morrison with at least ten identifiable locals. [24 points]
- 36._____ A-V Slideshow entitled “First-Year President Orientation.” Make sure to tailor it (by including references to) our incoming First-Year President, Tony Randall. [15 points]
- 37._____ We’ll get back to you with this one.
- 38._____ The Bible says something about the tall Tower of Babel that led to babble. Make your own, using only compact discs and jewel cases. No adhesives—just love. And CDs. [62 points]
- 39._____ A box of Honey Nut Beerios. [7 points]
- 40._____ A motel receipt alluding to one very “adult” evening. [25 points. 6.9 bonus points if the motel is on Cicero Ave.]
- 41._____ Make Dialogo cast the shadow of a hammer and sickle. [50 points]
- 42._____ Firepie. [7 points]
- 43._____ What do Bill Belichick, Humphrey Bogart, and Ming Tsai have in common? [5 points]

- 44._____ A “Hooray for Tony Randall, Our New Prez!” poster, measuring at least 4 square metres, to hang from a window in the Admin building. This item must be judged during a weekday. [24 points]
- 45._____ A “Where are you Herb?” button. [4 points]
- 46._____ A Prince Albert or two ampalangs. [8 points]
- 47._____ A barbershop quartet, wearing only straw boater hats. [20 points]
- 48._____ A letter from Dr. Alan R. Hirsch on official letterhead of the Smell and Taste Treatment and Research Foundation testifying that ARA food “smells—and tastes—like ass.” [16 points]
- 49._____ Subvertise, bring us pictures. [6 points]
- 50._____ Reënact any torture depicted in “Method Man.” [4 points]
- 51._____ Lucy Van Pelt funnel cakes. [5 points]
- 52._____ Emily, in the Upper East Side (E402), has the University of Chicago Scavenger Hunt Code Word on Thursday night. Loosen her up a bit for it. Batdude, by the way, has to ask; she was very insistent. [22 points]
- 53._____ Rocket 00000. The rocket has to be convincing (read: huge (read: to spec, between 1:2 and 1:1—look it up if you don’t know the details)) and strong enough to house your own Gottfried, dressed, of course, in Imipolex-G. If you can’t get a Gottfried, get a Katje or a Bianca. [389 points. 15 bonus points for a “facsimile” of a newspaper being read by your Blicero as he launches the rocket, detailing the date of launch. For 45 bonus points, get a Bianca in addition to a Gottfried. 20 more bonus points if both the rocket and she are “to spec,” natürlich]
- 54._____ While on the topic of Rocket 00000... fuck it. Bring in an Ilse, too, complete with a drawing of where she wants to live with her father cum lover. [34 points]
- 55._____ Schoeps mics. Two will do. [22 points]
- 56._____ A proper family tree of the Veen family, that includes both social and biological parentage. [16 points. 8 bonus points if you can prove that you cried when the Lucinda threw herself off the ocean liner]
- 57._____ Lego my Padme. (Note: not the figurine. We want life-size.) [75 points. 15 bonus points if you provide a sufficiently excited Zach, the Padme Lego Maniac]
- 58._____ In a photo: On the left, Batdude. On the right, Throbin. In the middle, a buena vista of a Buena Vista Beaver. [19 points]
- 59._____ An indoor stadium blimp, to deliver a stadium-sized cup of Bud Light to a judge from a starting point fifty feet away. Points awarded for speed, accuracy of delivery, and—most important—for not spilling a single drop. [49 points maximum]
- 60._____ Ralph Currell’s card model of an A4 rocket. Include test markings. [19 points]
- 61._____ In Mallrats, Brodie and Rene have sex in the elevator. Batdude and Throbin, then, should as well, in the exact same elevator. They can conceal their magic bits with copies of the mall’s store directory. [69 points]
- 62._____ What town is “Small in size, but on the rise”? [4 points]
- 63._____ Polyglot Porn. [6 points per language; 96 points maximum. 60 bonus points if it’s video and it involves Momus.]
- 64._____ A passenger vehicle that does not have a factory-installed odometer measuring in miles. [26 points]
- 65._____ A photo of Batdude, at America’s Number One Tourist Destination, surrounded by no fewer than 20 blonde teenaged girls. [29 points. -10 bonus points if the photo is in front of Claire’s, Old Navy, or a photo booth, natch. 16 bonus points if everyone in the photo is wet from “the flume ride”]

- 66._____ According to the Mall Wall of Fame, if Halle Berry turned around, what would she be doing? [7 points]
- 67._____ Shakespearean Action Figures, fighting PowerPuff Girl Action Figures. Bubbles had better be as cute in plastic as she is onscreen. [20 points]
- 68._____ The sash indicating membership in the Akademinio Skautų Sąjūdis. [25 points]
- 69._____ A Barça jersey. [19 points. 2 bonus points if it's Rivaldo's. 15 extra bonus points if there's a CBF jersey on top which is removed to show the Barça jersey underneath]
- 70._____ The picture in the facebook that launched a thousand crushes. Find this photo, then blow it up to poster size, and be prepared to properly explain to the judge how the photo launched, you know, a thousand crushes. [10 points]
- 71._____ Using only eyeglasses, set fire to a piece of paper. [40 points]
- 72._____ Prove conclusively, and in the flesh, that "cuffs and collar don't match." [8 points]
- 73._____ ...light of my life, fire of my loins. My sin, my soul. [10 points. 3 bonus points for the tip of the tongue taking a trip of three steps down the palate to tap, at three, on the teeth]
- 74._____ The expressed, written consent of Major League Baseball [15 points. 10 bonus points if it's on Gene Budig's stationery. (Hee hee, we said Budig)]
- 75._____ The following people attend schools within about an hour of Chicago and yet we haven't seen them in a while. In fact, we've lost touch with most of them. Find them for us, and bring them to the judging. 1) James Pastore 2) Barry LeBron 3) David Van den Berg 4) Michelle Grotto [3 points per person]
- 76._____ 100 University time cards arranged into a 10-page booklet [50 points. 20 bonus points if at least 50 are from the same pay period; 8 extra bonus points if they are not UoC time cards]
- 77._____ Bring in Toni Preckwinkle. Have her dunk. [15 points]
- 78._____ An Imus in the Morning Bobble-head doll. [40 points. 10 bonus points if you also present Momus's Head-bobbling doll]
- 79._____ According to the mileage at the Super America on Golf Road, how far is it to: Boston? Miahhammi? Rhinelander, WI? [11 points. 12 bonus for the population of Rhinelander. 2 extra bonus for the actual mileage chart]
- 80._____ A "This Area for Players Only" sign from a casino. [21 points]
- 81._____ A takeout menu from a Chinese restaurant in as many different towns in Iowa as possible. [4 points per menu, 100 points maximum]
- 82._____ "The world of soil is a rich and tiny habitat for amazing creatures." ScavHunt judges know this because they had two years of science under the old core. Refresh our memories and show that the new core isn't at all watered down: take your judge on an Underground Adventure, and no subways. [20 points. 100 bonus points if you bring along a Mobile Unit]
- 83._____ At 10 p.m. on Thursday night, your team name must be on the high score list for the basketball game at the ESPNZone in Chicago. [60 points. 186 bonus points if it also appears on the BottomLine during SportsCenter on Thursday night]
- 84._____ What 1948 event allegedly motivated Supreme Court Justice Thurgood Marshall to get real drunk, and why? [8 points]

- 147._____ Anton Vowl, facing abduction, had a scrap on which was drawn a song (and all of its stanzas), known colloquially as “that ‘O Say Can You’ song’s big rival for this nation’s main patriotic hymn.” You know, that song with lots of “our country has fabulous land” stuff. Hand us a copy of this scrap during our Captains’ Summit at 7 a.m. You will also sing that hymn. Music optional. [21 points]
- 148._____ A rubbing of the sine wave at the Sioux Falls sundial. Include the sun. [15 points]
- 149._____ Wheel of Fish. [62/9 points]
- 150._____ Convince pigeons to memorialize Charles Schulz. [42 points]
- 151._____ Portrait pranks: a portrait of your team stealing Hanna Gray, and a portrait of your portrait of Hugo Sonnenschein hanging in Hutch. [45 points]
- 152._____ Each item made from the May issue of Martha Stewart’s Living. And, just like Ms. Stewart, they had better look as good as in the pictures. [39 points]
- 153._____ Who signed, along with Geoff Fischer, the guestbook at John “Relation” Wayne’s birthplace? [9 points]
- 154._____ A scale model of your team’s design for the newest B-School building, in the International style of your choice. Must include Bat-Cave, trap doors, a Filthy Lucre Room, and ample underground parking for low-end BMWs and the occasional Lexus. [18 points]

- 155._____ What four breakfast sauces are at the table at Jar Mel's on Minnesota Ave.? [4 points]
- 156._____ Tank treads. Real ones. [48 points. 30 bonus points for the No Limit Tank's treads]
- 157._____ The College Store should sell University of Chicago clothing. Convince the manager and take a photo of the new display of Maroons' apparel. [15 points]

- 168._____ Bienvenido a Mia Hammi. [4 points]
- 169._____ Show porn at Max Palevsky. [18 points. 10 bonus points for Deep Throat or a movie involving Momus.]
- 170._____ 4th year with a 4.0 average in a "real" concentration. Transcripts only. [19 points]
- 171._____ A full-sized street cleaner circling the inner circle of the Quads. Or, if that doesn't work, a full-sized monkey on a bicycle circling the inner circle of the Quads. [150 points. 20 bonus points if the monkey has a metal plate in his head. 52 bonus points if you get both the cleaner and the monkey, and they race like Mad Max escaping the Thunderdome]
- 172._____ Leningrad : St. Petersburg :: Gay Head : _____? [4 points]
- 173._____ Tomacco, 1 unit. [7 points]
- 174._____ What does the monkey hate? [2 points]
- 175._____ Sioux Falls. Help her get up. [1 point]
- 176._____ Points for money I: Down with the High Capitalism of the Early 21st Century! Points awarded according to the formula where points $p = \frac{69(10)}{x-42.0(4)}(x^{-69} + 69) - 69$. Please provide an itemised, notarized budget, along with all receipts. Anything questionable will be audited by the head judge and your captain during the remainder of the hunt, so no cheating. (Note: no more than 1/4 of your team's points can come from this item.)
- 177._____ Points for money II: Up with the NASDAQ! Here is $500,000 in money to invest in the stock market. Log in at <http://www.virtualstockexchange.com>. For ID, use "UofCScavHunt." The password is, of course, "TonyRandall." Make as much money as you can.
- 178._____ A Tootsie Roll weighing no less than 10 pounds. [25 points. 30 bonus points if the roll is consumed by the end of this page's judging]
- 179._____ A millennium clock that is still counting down to the year 2000. [2 points]

- 180._____ A giant novelty check made out to President-Elect of the University of Chicago Tony Randall, redeemable at The Nile. [2 points]
- 181._____ Pan-Galactic Gargle Blaster. [4 points]
- 182._____ Smurf Balls. The toy. And no “I like playing with these” excuses. [15 points]
- 183._____ Like our Soc papers, we’ll worry about this one at the last minute.
- 184._____ Please, rebroadcast Sift-N-Olly. [5 points]
- 185._____ Menhir, 1. [25 points]
- 186._____ Munroe. [10 points]

- 188._____ We need a full-sized replica of one of the new dorm rooms. Include the drab paint scheme and then erect your beauty on the Quads. Feature student living in there during daylight hours on Friday. [100 points. 25 bonus points for phone and ethernet lines. 32 extra bonus points for dormcest]
- 189._____ Cartier, Poitier. [2 points]
- 190._____ A Tickle me Elmo, a Furby, a TurboMan, a Cabbage Patch Kid (with adoption “papers”), and whatever toy is going to be all the rage this Christmas, like those Sony cats. [6 points per toy]
- 191._____ Billy Dee Colt .45 promo materials. [6 points per item; 36 points maximum]
- 192._____ The Athletic Department’s missing Phoenix costume. [43 points]
- 193._____ Computerized data selections from the Greycapper. [7 points]
- 194._____ A hat made entirely out of Zest boxes (a soapbox derby). [10 points]
- 195._____ Batdude and Throbin, drinking beers with Mystic Lake Casino guards from Ho-Chunk change cups. A photo will do. [26 points]
- 196._____ Photographic evidence of attending a fraternity party as many Big Ten Schools as possible. Your teammate must be dressed in University of Chicago clothing. The photo must include proof that you are at the right school. [2(11) points per school. 5 bonus points per school for Batdude or Throbin’s presence in the photo]
- 197._____ A styrofoam effigy of Hugo, 1.34 metres tall, minimum, to be paraded and then dissolved by reasonably strong mace spray. [51 points]
- 198._____ “Straight Outta Koszalin,” featuring the malcontent youth of the former East Bloc. Required: hoopy soviet-mobile, “pouring one out for my comrade,” improper use of a kielbasa, and sassy devotchkas. [55 points]
- 199._____ Bryan Joiner’s speeding ticket’s court date is May 12. Show up to protest it, and return with the issuing officer’s badge number. More details will be available at the Captains’ Meeting [55 points]
- 200._____ Present a photo of your team breaking glass in front of Austin’s steakhouse in Oma, ha! [5 points. 5 bonus points if you can tell us why we would ask you to do this]
- 201._____ Labas, Lisa Labuz. [5 points]
- 202._____ A literary cannon, literally. [4 points]
- 203._____ Matlock. [250 points. 50 bonus points if this is “against” his will. 25 bonus points for his medication. 120 points if he’s dead]

- 204._____ The Scavenger Hunt, in honour of the High Capitalism of the Early 21st Century (only partially related to the High Capitalism of the Early 21st Century mentioned in Item 176), is all about making money. Thus, bring vendors. We want girl scouts peddling cookies (and, um, “Brownies”), we want cotton candy, churros, and hippies selling “bitchin’ glass bowls” as well as “kind veggie burritos.” Throw in a few Streetwise vendors, a few guys from the Red Line hawking tube socks and batteries, and, most importantly, a Dippin’ Dots vendor. [200 points maximum]
- 205._____ A CPD APB on an MC Killer. Audio tape will suffice; paper would be better. [10 points. 15 bonus points if somewhere on the APB it’s mentioned that it was the work of the master]
- 206._____ This is our Who Wants to be a Millionaire item: A videotape of and source information for the Wu-produced and -directed St. Ides malt liquor commercial. [31 points]
- 207._____ Email judges@scavhunt.uchicago.edu from a gateway.com address. [23 points]
- 208._____ We can’t even remember if we went to Ronald Reagan’s birthplace. Pick us up something to jog our memories. [10 points]
- 209._____ Non-menthol Newports. One pack. [7 points]
- 210._____ Hugo scrap-book. [2 points]
- 211._____ 55408. From this ZIP code, sent the judges a postcard (the postage must be metered). [18 points]
- 212._____ Wheaton College Crusader Memorabilia. [18 points]
- 213._____ That guy who always juggles on the quads must juggle. Now. [7 points]
- 214._____ The misaligned Hubble Mirror. [39 points]
- 215._____ Batdude must win the Big Ass Burger Challenge at State Street Brats. [99 points. 45 bonus points if he wins a State Street Brats Special Ale tapper, too]
- 216._____ Ain’t No Party Like A Big Ten Party. We were in the Big Ten once, now let’s pretend we are again. The football team just won their final game to guarantee a trip to the Rose Bowl. You and your team decide to celebrate by having, of course, a Theme Party. The Theme? Team Name! (Silly!) Here are the basic rules: Your team should arrive in costume, with vehicles, music (incorporating, obviously, the ScavHunt Theme), and other necessities of having a good time, including, but not limited to, for example, an inflatable pool filled with some sort of substance that pertains to your team. Friday Night, on the Quads. Make it good. No bonfires or lye dunking booths; we said Big Ten, not Big Twelve. [286 points maximum]
- 217._____ Mariah, mariah, pants on fire (BE SAFE!). [2 points]
- 218._____ How many teeth does Bob Feller have in his brick mural at his birthplace? [7 points, because 7 is the correct answer]
- 219._____ A receipt on your road trip timed at 4:20, for every 4:20 between 4:20 p.m. May 11 and 4:20 a.m. May 14. [12 points per receipt reading 4:20 on the nose. 5 points for within 7 minutes, on either side]
- 220._____ A matchbox car that says “Made in England” on it. [12 points]
- 221._____ At judging, tip a Cow on Parade. [89 points]
- 222._____ Those damn 2000 glasses. Get your whole team wearing them. [1 point per pair of glasses]
- 223._____ The True Monster of the Midway. Choose a classic monster (Godzilla, Patrick Bateman, King Kong) and construct him in monstrous size on the Midway, or, rather, the Quad. Size counts both in height and footprint. We want something sturdy (more “I want this in my statuary” than “I want this in my bullshit collection of cardboard cutouts”), and no inflatable-monkeys that you rented from a car dealership. Don’t embarrass yourself with something not even 8 metres tall. [350 points]
- 224._____ How much is a Coke at the vending machine behind the Gateway factory? [5 points]

- 225._____ A copy of Ravelstein, bearing a favorable inscription from Nathan Tarcov. [8 points. 150 bonus points if you bring Tarcov to write the inscription in person]
- 226._____ An Antennaudio™ guide for “The Magic of Myth.” [65 points]
- 227._____ While judging this page, the judge must receive a booty call. [8 points]
- 228._____ Find the game barrel o’ monkeys, and beat your judge at it. [10 points]
- 229._____ Some how some way, come up with funky-ass shit like every single day. Funky-ass shit is due each morning in front of Cobb at 10, except on Sunday, when funky-ass shit can be presented at Judgment. [7 points per day]
- 230._____ During the judging of this page, spontaneously break out into song and dance. We want tap-dancing, catchy lyrics, and flashy pyrotechnics. [5 points]
- 231._____ Malibu Stacy’s Dream Crack House. [16 points]
- 232._____ In the fourth president, sit on the sixteenth president’s lap. Provide photo. [6 points]
- 233._____ A photo of your roadtrip team heading on a road that is the east route for one highway and the west route for another. [15 points]
- 234._____ Put your own impression on a souvenir penny. [45 points. 10 bonus points if said penny belongs to somebody actually named Penny. Note: “Anfernee” is not close enough]
- 235._____ SCAV@Home. You must form a group in the clubs group of computers dedicated to finding aliens. The group name must be your team name. At the end of judgment, the team with the most work units completed wins the day. Additionally, you must incorporate your team’s web page into the entry with SETI@Home. [60 points for leading the ScavHunt, 30 for being in second, and 15 for being in third. 22 bonus points if your team finds ETI]
- 236._____ Commemorate the ScavHunt with commemorative coins. Provide either a complete set of the new millennium Canadian coins (with display board and 1999 Nunavut twonie) or an implied complete set of US entry-into-the-Union quarters. If you go for the latter, include designs for the states that were, um, “readmitted” to the Union in 1865. Every spot in your USA display board has to be filled with a metal quarter. [48 points. 20 bonus points for a Sacajawea fringe on the mounting board]
- 237._____ Stars from the short-lived Fox Documentary “Yearbook” [142 points]
- 238._____ The Crocodile Hunter should stalk the other teams’ monsters (from Item 223). But his gnarled hands will prevent him from catching them. [11 points]
- 239._____ Nuns. Ain’t nothin’ wrong with that. [8 points per nun; 24 points maximum. Points awarded only for actual sisters, not for half-sisters]
- 240._____ Margučiai or Pysanky. [18 points per dozen; 46 points maximum]
- 241._____ Someone who has got it on with Moby, Momus, Mo Vaughn, or Moe the Dog. [2 points]
- 242._____ Do it like they do on the Discovery Channel. [3 points]
- 243._____ Ron the Piper. [4 points. -6 bonus points if he farts]
- 244._____ We all hate to see I-house go, but if they’re really going to do away with it, they should replace it with something useful. Believe me, B-School Housing is not useful, but Waffle House is. [11 points]
- 245._____ A marriage proposal from an undergrad to a professor, the “yes I said yes I will Yes” from the professor to the undergrad, and the “we’re getting married” hookup session that follows between the professor and the undergrad. [28 points. 5 bonus points for tenure, 10 bonus points for a named professor, 15 bonus points for an Undergraduate Chair. Want it, love it, feel it]
- 246._____ Make us a winter wonderland. At least 9 square metres. Include a snowman, tree, and, most importantly, a snowball fight. By the way, points awarded only for real snow. [60 points]

- 247._____ Smack it up, flip it, and rub it down. [8 points]
- 248._____ A giant glue trap complete with a team member from a rival team. [30 points]
- 249._____ Get noticed by a judge at the game against the Twins on Saturday. [80 points]
- 250._____ A team member with three nipples. [3! points]
- 251._____ At least two “90210 Watch”ers. [10 points per watcher (1 point per season, dude!)]
- 252._____ Respect my fucking authori-tay! [3 points]
- 253._____ A sealed bottle of Stolichnaya Vodka that reads “Imported from the USSR” instead of “Imported from Russia.” [30 points]
- 254._____ One Chinatown-acquired crotch picture frame. [7 points]
- 255._____ A rubbing of Buena Vista University’s stirring poem “Come Walk With Me.” [13 points]
- 256._____ Give. Friday, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., Ida Noyes Hall. [25 points per teammember going under; 500 points maximum]
- 257._____ Hot Guys, Hungry Women, Man Stew. [7 points]
- 258._____ Tintin et l’Alph-Art. [32 points]
- 259._____ If you know the right people, you can sit anywhere. Prove that a teammember (not necessarily Batdude or Throbin) has perched in Harmon Killebrew’s seat above “the flume ride.” [110 points]
- 260._____ Larry Barnes, in person, to approve your team’s mortgage request. This must be followed by Erik A. Martin’s getting you out of debt. [53 points]
- 261._____ Cubans. [3 points]
- 262._____ The Fighting Cock. [6 points]
- 263._____ A Saskatchewanian. [11 points]
- 264._____ Drop-kick the chalupa. [4 points]
- 265._____ J.Z. Smith in a lawn chair on the Quads, drinking MGD; what else? [20 points]
- 266._____ “Date Your Scavvy Match!” The judges, quick to perceive and quicker to act, will have found your team’s personal’s matches on the other teams (as indicated in Item 142). Each couple must, then, go on a date Friday night that is videotaped by one of the teams (videotape and receipts [for proof, not reimbursement] must be turned in Saturday evening. The teams are responsible to decide between themselves who has to tape). Both teams get full points for the tape and date, which must include dinner, some sort of entertainment, and then extracurricular activity. Points will be given based on creative extension of the date’s ground rules, and on the creative conclusion. The videotape should serve as a highlight reel only—no one wants to watch two people fumble through a hopelessly dull discussion of Plato’s Apology over the din at Maravilla’s. [267 points, maximum]
- 267._____ We know that the Hyde Park local music scene isn’t really dead since Streganona broke up. Have that aspiring DJ on your team put together a badass mix. Let’s face it, though, anyone can put together a supposedly badass mix (DJ Markski comes to mind)—therefore, maximum points will only be awarded if the mix appears at the Betalounge. [124 points]
- 268._____ Back that ass up, ha! [5 points]
- 269._____ Stack that Kass up, ha! [20 points]
- 270._____ Hack that bass up, ha! [6.3 points]
- 271._____ What’s 420 on Grand? [4.2 points]

- 272._____ Norman Reynolds's Star Wars concept drawing SWEC 91354 is of what? [39 points]
- 273._____ A change of address confirmation letter redirecting mail to Juneau, AK. [10 points]
- 274._____ Masturbating Bear. His fire was lit by the PimpBot; prove it. [7 points]
- 275._____ Budweiser Millennium Magnum. [12 points]
- 276._____ This photo's a bit tricky to visualise. Batdude is driving on the highway. Throbin, in the backseat, is, um "pressing ham." The car is in motion (driving, as mentioned, on the highway). [18 points]
- 277._____ For a moment, convince us visually and musically that we have been transported to the office in the video for "Flat Beat." Except, instead of a muppet signing papers, we want both Triumph, the Insult Comic Dog, and the pets.com sock puppet signing papers and calling people. [42 points]
- 278._____ Alter the face of the Moon permanently. [500 points, even. -502 points for destroying the Moon]
- 279._____ Trent's last name, at Old Chicago in Oma, ha! [30 points]
- 280._____ A Mama UNH! [2 points]
- 281._____ Grandma UNH! [4 points]
- 282._____ Based on the Wu Family Reception Room, dedicated to Ruth Ann Dayton, create a poster-sized seating chart for the Wu-Tang Clan. [32 points]
- 283._____ Road trip! Beach party! Batdude and Throbin, your intrepid travelers, decide to throw and photograph the throwing of a beach party in a few places over the course of the Hunt. A beach chair and a straw hat should serve as proper proof of having a beach party. The schedule may vary, but here are the locations of the beach parties: by the round barn in Le Mars, IA, by the Roseman Covered Bridge of Madison County, in front of the photo of Skellig Michael at the Weisman Art Museum, on top of the Buena Vista University School of Business Forum, in Toddlerstown at the Citibank headquarters in South Dakota, at Rosenblatt Stadium, and on the Dolly Fiterman terrace. [15 points per beach party. 6 bonus points for a beach umbrella, cooler, and frisbee per beach party. 15 bonus points per tough beach party accomplished]
- 284._____ The tabloid-sized seating chart for the HHH-dome. [19 points]
- 285._____ A butcher, a baker, and a candlestick maker. [4 points]
- 286._____ A straight jacket, a restraining order, and a containment field. [5 points, 10 points, and 15 points]
- 287._____ Make Hugo a really nice going away gift. Make it nice. Niiiiice. [2 points]
- 288._____ Most teams just glance at the list Thursday night before nodding off. They'd really regret it this year, because there will be a judge at one of the Buffington Harbor Casinos Thursday from 1 a.m. to 3 a.m., and the sooner you find them, the more points they probably haven't already lost at the tables.
- 289._____ Authentic ninja weaponry. [7 points per item. 20 bonus points if the weaponry is attached to an authentic ninja]
- 290._____ Road-trippers generally would like nothing more than to be simply up and out the door after having their picture taken with the judges Thursday morning. Fine. But if one of your road trippers is dressed as Batdude in the picture, then those extra points will make that first hour so much more tolerable. [If not done, all road trip items count as 0 points. 5 bonus points for Batdude. 20 bonus points if Batdude is accompanied by Throbin]
- 291._____ The Body of Christ. Prove it. [23 points]
- 292._____ The winning ScavHunt trophy. Make a kick-ass design, build it, and present it. [winning trophy gets the second place trophy, second-best gets the third place trophy, and so on]
- 293._____ What's the passwoid? (Hint: it's in the bathroom.) [7 points]

- 294._____ A fresh batch of America Balls. [6 points]
- 295._____ Satisfy Granny. [5 points]
- 296._____ A completed NSO scavenger hunt list. Go for the grand prize. [26 points]
- 297._____ One prom-suitable outfit, costing less than $6, bought at the Ford City Salvation Army. [12 points]
- 298._____ An intricate Tibetan-type “sand mandala,” at least four feet by four feet, made from the Riceland Commemorative Millennial rice, brown and white. [99 points. 25 bonus points for a Queen Amandala]
- 299._____ What urban area has streets named “Milwaukee,” “Lake,” “Lake Shore Drive,” “Western,” “Grand,” and “Michigan”? [6 points. 0 points for “Chicago”]
- 300._____ Award Shows get a lot of crap from everybody. Everyone talks about how much they suck, but everyone still watches them. It must be for that delightful Billy Crystal. Well, you know, the more we think about it, this crazy thing called life—or, more appropriately, the ScavHunt—is just one big awards show. We can’t have the delightful Billy Crystal, but at least get us some award trophies. We want Oscars, Emmys, Grammys (we guess), but definitely Tonys. Just don’t leave them by the dumpster when you leave. [40 points. 15 bonus points for them mounted on gold chains and worn while performing a Big Pun verse from “Feeling So Good”]
- 301._____ Take a picture of every Porsche in Storm Lake. [12 points per Porsche. 6 Porsches maximum]
- 302._____ A ticket stub to a winning Bulls game from this season. [3 points per stub; 15 points maximum]
- 303._____ Voltron, the larger the better. [24 points. 15 bonus points for either a toy that breaks up into the component lions, a Voltron suit, or GZA/Genius as the head]
- 304._____ We saw some crazy stuff in the United States, so provide rubbings that prove we’re not nuts. We want a rubbing that shows that Buena Vista College Salutes (on the plaque of the same name) David Van den Berg, Sports Editor, Chicago Maroon; a rubbing that indicates that the University of Chicago won the College World Series in the 70s; and a rubbing that shows that Herbert Hoover was the first President of the United States. The final rubbing must include the DAR seal. [63 points]
- 305._____ Penrose’s quasiperiodic tiling on a 4 square metre dancefloor made up of at least 200 individual parallelograms, then mounted. [71 points]
- 306._____ According to Chippewa County Historical Society Marker 21, from whom was the land the marker’s on bought in 1867? [18 points]
- 307._____ Brewers’ Bucketful of Brew. [14 points]

- 319._____ As many people who have posted to uchi.flame by 10 May 2000 to, as a group, eat a cake baby. [4 points per poster]
- 320._____ Don't forget the Cold War! We want the 18 colorised flags of the U.S.S.R. presented in the 1975 revised edition of The Observer's Book of Flags, in a quilt. (Hint: We want the State Flag, the Ensign, the Jack, and the flags of the following SSRs: Armenian, Azerbaijan, Estonian, Georgian, White Russian, Kazakh, Kirghiz, Latvian, Lithuanian, Moldavian, Tadjik, Turkmen, Ukrainian, and Uzbek. And don't forget the flag of the Russian Soviet Federative Socialist Republic!) Then, adorn extra patches of your quilt with various mementos and tchotchkes of the Soviet Days Gone By. We're looking for Realist art, Shostakovich scores, and depictions of the workers' heroes. Throw in a few images of Ladas or Trabants, perhaps even a few portraits of shady mafiya gangsters threatening to elect Putin. No crayon coloring. And no paper. [40 points. 100 bonus points for sewing]

- 324._____ The Internet is what is going to run the High Capitalism of the Early 21st Century (you know, like in Item 176). Or ruin it. As a result, present an equally ambivalent website devoted to your team. This website must involve, only, an essay presenting the binary of run/ruin and how it unwinds (using as a main theme Soda's Constructor) in the specific case of, well, the Internet running/ruining the High Capitalism of the Early 21st Century. In addition to the essay, and as cited examples of either (or, since we're all Poststructuralists, both) ruin or run, you must include references to the following: the Dixie Chicks, Jet Man + Cap Boy, that guy who's making everyone happy by walking around the world carrying a huge wooden cross, fisting, transit organizations and their usually pathetic websites (www.bigdig.com counts, surprisingly), John McCain's rumours about Jake Tapper's drinking, Kruger Park, and Panelè magazine. Additionally, throw in a few photos of interesting things, and use JavaScript, XML, and CSS. [64 points. 128 bonus points if the essay is the lead article on Salon]
- 325._____ Now everybody— [Δt points]
