

The 2018 University of Chicago Scavenger Hunt List

The University of Chicago Scavenger Hunt Organization Committee

9 May 2018

SCAV TEAMS AND THE RULES OF THE HUNT

1. Acquisition of Items. All Items on the List can be obtained and performed legally. It may involve smooth talking, or it may involve something else, but it is all possible. The Judges take no responsibility for your getting thrown into the clink—be it local clink, state clink, federal clink, or Colonel Klink. If you end up there, it is your fault.
2. Fair Play. Sabotage is bad. We don't like it, and we don't want it in the Hunt. Sabotaging teams or their Items can lead to immediate disqualification, and we may even loose the hounds of the Administration on you.
3. Contact with Judges. While we don't want to complain and say that Judges have it so tough, Scav Hunt is always teetering on the edge of sheer chaos, and if we can avoid it, we should. Thus, please only communicate with the Judges if you are going to do it in a professional manner. Generally, just remember that the more people shout, the less will be understood. That seems like it makes sense, no?
4. Props. All props must, always and forever, be mad props.
5. Points. Point totals are final. We ask you to do awesome things and expect awesome things to be done. If you do said awesome things, the Judge will accord to you Full Points, the highest number of points possible for any Item. In rare cases—for example, if we ask for a car and you give us the Batmobile with both George Clooney and Adam West inside—we will consider giving you one special point. Maybe two. As far as point values, well, we use a dartboard, numberwang, and Tibetan numerological methods to determine how much Items are worth, so no complaining that “the lazy eye patch was worth more than the moonbounce made of guns!”
6. Items. Be aware that doing Items nude when it's not explicitly asked for will not get you more points. Nor will involving alcohol in Items that don't clearly call for alcohol. The same goes for alcohol's redheaded, stepchild cousins, sex and drugs. Please note that few Items explicitly call for nudity, alcohol, or either of the aforementioned redheaded variants. Lastly, we don't like to harm large mammals that can make sad eyes at us, so please treat any non-humans involved in your Items with extreme care.
7. A Good Time. For a good time call (202) 762-1401.
8. Preliminary Events. The deadlines for the submission of Items and performances are final as stated on the List or as announced by the Judges at the Monster Ball, which happens at 9:00 a.m. on Thursday in Hutch Commons. It is the Captains' responsibility to make sure that they submit these in a timely manner. Items that do not have a discrete time/place stated on the List are not preliminary and therefore must occur at Judgment. Upon request, we may, at our discretion, come to see an Item at a time/place other than Judgment. Consider this a privilege, and use your “Come See Our Items” cards sparingly.
9. Road Trip. The Road Trip can be done without getting busted by the cops or breaking any rules. Please get it done that way. The destination point most distant from campus will not exceed 1,000 miles. Use of 15-passenger vans or trucks is prohibited.

Driver requirements:

- a. Minimum age of 18 (If a rental car is used, the rental car company minimum age requirements apply).
- b. Must have held a valid US driver's license for at least two years, which must be in driver's possession throughout trip.
- c. Must possess valid passports, should the mischiefs of foreign intrigue beckon.
- d. Must have more than 2,000 miles driving experience.
- e. May not have received moving violations or convictions or court-ordered supervision.
- f. Must be alcohol- and drug-free (it's the way to be), including illegal, prescription, and non-prescription drugs that could impair driving function or are used for any reason other than their FDA-approved intent.

- g. Must have valid automobile insurance.

Road Trip Management:

- a. No one may operate a vehicle for more than three consecutive hours or six total hours in one day.
- b. Total driving time may not exceed 16 hours within a 24-hour period.
- c. No driving permitted between midnight and 6:00 a.m.
- d. Another person must be awake in the seat next to the driver at all times.

Road Trip Rules:

- a. Upon spotting a sign casting opprobrium upon various measures of birth control or the deliberate termination of a pregnancy, one must punch another occupant of the car and proclaim, "Foetus Boetus!"
- b. Upon spotting an adult entertainment venue or advertisement, one must punch another occupant of the car and proclaim, "Moetus Boetus!"
- c. Upon spotting a sign lauding the life and acts of the Lawd Jesus Christ, one must punch another occupant of the car and proclaim, "Jeebus Boetus!"
- d. Upon spotting roadkill, one must punch another occupand of the car and proclaim "Streetus Moetus!"
- e. Punches not in accordance with the above rules may be met with one equal or harder punch in retribution.
- f. When crossing state lines, all non-driving SUCC team members should hold hands.

A Captain of each team must certify in advance to the Judges that the team understands and agrees to abide by these regulations.

10. Judgment Day. As in the Bible, Judgment Day should take, like, 45 minutes. Prepare all Twin Cities and Road Trip Items for judging at 8:30 a.m. on Judgment Day. Regular Items will be judged after the Showcase. The Showcase will be judged at Showcase, which will be at 10:00 a.m.

In addition, please have a highlighted list of the Items you've acquired ready so that when a Judge comes by to judge your page, there won't be any time wasted with "do we have the particle accelerator?" questions. If an Item is followed by †, it must be ready for judging as part of the Showcase, prior to regular page judging. Judges will hold up placards (really just sheets of paper with Sharpie-ed numbers) denoting which pages they are ready to judge. Call over whichever Judge corresponds to the page you are ready to present. Here's a tip: sort your Items based on which page they are on. In short, BE ORGANIZED.

11. Rules. Ain't no rule says a roller coaster can't be a Judge.
12. Prizes. The prizes are simple, because there are no prizes. Depending on how much of the Scav budget the Judge Cabal hasn't spent on Choles for our holes, you may be eligible for a free-food bacchanal or other in-kind prize. Offer void where prohibited. Check local laws.
13. Decisions. All decisions of the Judges are final. Final.
14. Final. See Decisions.

Scav Olympics

To be held at 10:00 a.m. on Saturday, 12 May 2018, on or about the Eckhart Quad. For each competition, 20 points will be awarded for 1st place; 15 points for 2nd place; 10 points for 3rd place; 5 points for $(3 < x \leq 22)$ nd place.

1. _____ Like Van Halen, the Cabal doesn't like brown M&Ms[®]. Could you and a friend help us out?
2. _____ You are cordially invited to join our PIZZA RAT KING. Bring your tails & get ready to tangle!
3. _____ A five-person, four-legged, three-armed race.
4. _____ Hacky Skittles[®].
5. _____ Pickle popping. Your team's pickle popper grasps a pickle in their mouth and attempts to launch it as far as they can. Feet must be planted firmly on the ground and no hands may be used—this isn't javelin. To account for the naturally occurring differences in pickle shape, density, and aerodynamic properties, each competitor will pop three pickles and we'll take the average distance.
6. _____ Just as soon as you managed to remove all those Brown M&Ms[®], someone went ahead and brought you a kiddie pool filled with them. But now your task is to find the Skittles[®] in the M&M[®] stack. Taste the rainbow!
7. _____ TBA.
8. _____ You are a proud, expectant father penguin with a shiny new egg to protect, but are you the fastest? Be prepared to race across the Quad as fast as you can while keeping that presh egg safe between your happy feet.

Items

1. _____ A copy of the 2018 University of Chicago Scavenger Hunt List. [1 point]
2. _____ Let's face it, the Scav Hunt rules are just like the boilerplate at the end of drug commercials—read as fast as possible. But now they'll be read aloud as fast as possible too. [0 points for speaking at < 300 WPM; 5 points for 300 to 375 WPM; 10 points for 375 to 450 WPM; and 17 points for > 450 WPM]
3. _____ Citation counts are hardly a robust method for calculating an academic journal's "impact factor". In order to right this situation, bring to Judgment: 1) a device for launching journals with equal force and 2) a device for measuring each journal's resulting impact. We'll bring the journals and find out once and for all which one has the most scholarly merit.¹
4. _____ A human printing press—one torso per character, one word at a time—to print this item. [14 points]
5. _____ The fastest goddamn fast food kid's meal toy you can find. [Points 5 and up]
6. _____ Did you know the Visualizations feature for Windows Media Player includes a mode promoting the obscure 2003 skate movie Grind? Did you further know that your team will produce a Visualization-esque program promoting some other obscure 2003 movie? [Thirteen (2003) points]
7. _____ No more need for Voigt-Kampff tests—all the Judges are replicants now. But Scav can get anyone off their baseline, so please administer a Baseline Response Test to the Judge. [6 points]
8. _____ For when that pour of whiskey hasn't been aged quite long enough—find a mini cooper to make you a shot glass-sized oak barrel. [11 points, +3 bonus points if it is suitable for bourbon]
9. _____ Sex:It Follows::Accepting a logical leap in a mathematical proof:It Follows That. [10 points for a 90-second trailer]
10. _____ The Avocado Pit and the Pendulum. A swinging rejection stamp pulled down—certainly, relentlessly down—towards a home loan application with the addition of each avocado pit to the mechanism. The process is calibrated to reject the loan at a precise number of pits (or equivalent weight). In turn, this is the number of avocados the applicant could buy with the money in their checking account. [28 points]
11. _____ In Clintonville, Flat Arthur is once again impressed with how quickly SUCC traversed the surface of the Earth. Looking at the piece of the Great Wall of China, they explain to the group about how it can't actually be viewed from space. Around the corner from the Wall, Ax-Man poses next to the tank. [8 points]
12. _____ "On a move-in day, like in four months, the day we're going to rob it. At least fifteen hundred copies, without breaking a sweat". In under four minutes, your team's Danny/Debbie Ocean plans and executes a heist of the University's maximum-security Doing Honest Work in College vault. [Ocean's 1 point per specialist involved, max 14 specialists, +1 bonus point for a truly shocking twist]

14. _____ An authentic Washington Generals basketball jersey. [26 points]
15. _____ Our prior is that there's always a Bayesian bear! Bring a bear to Judgment. To help you get it right, at the UofCRoast (Item 215), the Tailgate (Item 170), and Scav Olympics, you may present two candidate bears to the Judge, who will tell you which one is the most bear-like. The Bayesian bear is recognizable as a bear, but beyond this we recommend a flat prior. [15 points]
16. _____ In honor of the Scrooby Congregation, make a pilgrimage to the Scrooby Stone and leave an offering of Scrooby Snacks. [4 points]
17. _____ Pasta bowtie. Do not confuse with farfalle. To be tied at Judgment. [8 points]

Make a set of personalized Concurring or Dissenting nipple pasties for three Supreme Court justices. [12 titpoints (not to be conflated with Bitpoints)]
20. _____ Angela Urkel. [1 point]
21. _____ Kill Richard Garfield. By “kill”, we of course mean “tape a Doom Blade to his back when he’s not looking”. We’ll also accept any other removal that may select Richard Garfield as a valid target. [18 points for Richard Garfield; 8 points for other prominent player]
22. _____ Filet Minions. [Despicable 1 point]
23. _____ Dearly beloved, we have gathered here today to get through this thing called Scav. Electric word, Scav. It means Four Days, and that’s a mighty long time. But we’re here to tell you there’s something else. At 11:59 p.m. on Wednesday, your two pre-selected Scavvies were united in sibling rivalry and from now until Saturday night, they’ll laugh alike, they’ll walk alike, at times they’ll even talk alike. In Minneapolis-St. Paul, your Minnesota Twins are two of a kind. [$\frac{4}{5}$ points] Ⓢ
24. _____ Admit it. [8 points]
25. _____ Some clowns CLAIM to create lifelike balloon animals, but when was the last time you saw a rubber pig or latex cow in the wild? Bring back realism to this dying art by creating a balloon animal out of an inflated intestine, stomach, or other formerly living anatomical entity. [17 points, +6 bonus points if it floats]
26. _____ Welcome to The Jungle! We’ve got meat and game! We’ve got everything you want honey, but do you know their names? At 12:30 p.m. on Friday, send one Upton Sinclair to the Bartlett Trophy Lounge to ID what we’re packing. [16 points for first place; 12 points for second place; 8 points for third place; and 4 points for otherwise participating] Ⓢ
27. _____ At the literary rest stop in Tiffin, Flat Arthur sees the pen stabbing the ground and believes it’s a sign of the world ending. The Eateorologist finds their way to the vending machines for a tasty snack. [4 points]
28. _____ This item can be found on our website. [A5.5 points]
29. _____ You know what? Let’s have another round. Great British Drink-Off: Mark II. This year we’ll be paying tribute to the saddest fab four to have broken up since John, Paul, George, and Ringo. In the Signature Challenge, your team’s mixologist will pay tribute to Mary by crafting a mixture that features Berries or Berry Juice infusion as a central component. Then, the Technical Challenge will task them to make a traditional-yet-challenging mystery cocktail that hails from the Golden Age of (Paul) Hollywood. Then, the Show-Stopper challenge will have you pulling out all the stops to make Cocktails for Two for Mel and Sue, as each bartender makes a tasty and visually stunning complementary pair of drinks that doesn’t skimp on the accoutrements. A new Star Bartender is ready to be crowned, so meet in the McCormick Lounge at 3:00 p.m. on Friday. [Ψ points]
30. _____ It’s not delivery. It’s a discus. How far can you throw a frozen pizza on the Midway? [2π points]
31. _____ Outside of Linwood Pizza in Wyoming, the Eateorologist is reminded of their failed past. The chef points at the Eateorologist, and the Eateorologist points back. [3 points]
32. _____ Conspire to set two people on your team up with each other. They must not learn of your efforts until they meet each other alone at night and the entire rest of your team softly begins singing “tale as old as time” from their communal hiding place around a corner. [<3 points]
33. _____ In addition to their regular rewards, some items this year will also award Bitpoints, the value of which will fluctuate over the Hunt. Teams may agree to trade each other Bitpoints for regular old fiat points using the Judges’ blockchain technology. You may also trade your Bitpoints to the Judges, but we’ll charge you a 20% processing fee. Here’s a Bitpoint to get you started! [1 Ⓢ]

34. _____ Luck is the residue of design. At Judgment, ask us a deeply personal binary question. Make us believe that you can predict the future, and our embarrassing response, by preparing a single reaction video with alternate endings depending on whether we're watching through the chic red 3D glasses or the blue ones. [7 + 7 points]
35. _____ 1 0 1 1 0 0 1 1 0 1 1 0 0 1 0 1 0 1 0 0 0 0 1 0 0 1 1 1 1 0 [0 points]
36. _____ We're pretty sure the only thing that sets us apart from Seto Kaiba is that his trench coat seems to majestically billow much more frequently than our own, regardless of the weather conditions. Fashion a sleek attachment to the inside of a trench coat that will, upon going to draw your next card, make it look as though you summoned Djinn the Watcher of the Wind himself! [8 points]
37. _____ Code red! Code blue! Code 42! It's a Code swap! By 10:00 a.m. on Friday, submit a short-form puzzle/riddle/code to scavcodeswap@gmail.com, along with a detailed answer. We will compile and email out all the puzzles from all the teams later that day. [$10 - k_i$ points per code your team solves + $(n - k_0) * k_0$ points, where k_i is the number of teams that solve puzzle i , n is the total number of teams, and k_0 is the number of teams that solve your code]
38. _____ SUCC goes off the air and makes a pit stop at the bathrooms of the John Michael Kohler Art Center in Sheboygan. They admire the beautiful bathroom art. [4 points]
39. _____ This year for Scavvenfeast, join us in taking a byte of blockchain technology! First, recall that once recorded, the data in any given block cannot be edited without the alteration of all subsequent blocks. Use this as inspiration for your appetizer, which should be a multi-layered dish—once cooked, the only way to get to the middle layers is to eat through the outside first! Then, just as the decentralization of blockchain technology makes it effectively incorruptible, so too should your entrée, which highlights its “decentralized” main ingredient through at least four distinct preparations. Finally, it's no coincidence that the output of the cryptographic hash function is called the digest. Conclude your meal with a dessert that pays homage to the workhorse of modern cryptography: an original dessert hash. While you're preparing your dishes, don't underestimate your block time—dinner will be served at 5:30 p.m. on Saturday in the McCormick Tribune Lounge. [ϵ points]
40. _____ A one-paper origami architecture pop-up that we could submit to Zim-Zam as a potential design for the new-new residence hall. We're not saying he has a favorite architectural style, but if he did, it would probably be brutalist. [15 points]
41. _____ Did you know the area of Texas slightly exceeds the surface area of Starkiller Base, assuming it approximates a perfect sphere? We bet you did. Did you know that the major cities of Texas are roughly distributed like the base's critical systems, up to a First Order approximation? We bet you did. Do you have a 3D spherical model of Starkiller base that unfolds into a flat map of Texas to prove it? By Judgment, we bet you will. [$4\pi r^2$ points, where $r = 1$]
42. _____ Moo! SUCC gazes in udder amazement at the creature in front of Cedar Crest in Manitowoc. What a lucky cow... [3 points]
43. _____ You call that a stacked deck? We'll show you a stacked deck! Construct a freestanding card house out of exactly one deck of cards. Through a single impulse at a single point of the structure, knock it down. From the cards that have landed face-down, randomly deal a five-card hand. [Up to 10 of s points based on the strength of hand]
44. _____ RA isn't around when you've had too much to drink? Good thing you've got your trusty Trashcan Robo-RA! Like any good Robo-RA, it passes you tissues more frequently than you'd like, pats your back in a stiff and uncaring manner, and says moderately encouraging things while you're kneeling over it. Oh, and it's especially uptight about quiet hours. [33 points]
45. _____ We've always thought double-sided coins and weighted dice were too inelegant—too prone to discovery and requiring too much preparation. Being able to consistently flip a coin would be far more impressive, and nearly impossible to detect. We suspect if we gave you a fair quarter at Judgment, you could flip it 10 times and get the sequence HHHHHTTTTT. [2^{k-5} points, where k is the number of correct flips]

46. _____ Ever notice how Mr. Peanut sells other peanuts for human consumption while wearing a top hat and spats? That’s pretty fucked. Create three to four pieces of propaganda art exhorting the legumpen-proletariat to rise up. Goobers of the world, unite! You have nothing to lose but your shells! [15 pea-oints]
47. _____ Man Door bell hooks Car Door. [1 point]
48. _____ Because Judgment has historically fallen on Mother’s Day, we fear there’s been a dearth of items depicting the richness and variety of dad culture. For this reason, we expect at Judgment a life-sized and fully fleshed out exhibit from DAD BODY WORLDS. It’s unrealistic to assume that a consenting dad would be willing to donate his body to the Hunt to create a creepy plastinated homunculus. That’s why your DAD BODY WORLDS exhibit will be wholly composed of various dadly detritus, including, but not limited to, white tennis shoes, barbeque grills, unopened maps, and empty packs of Marlboro Reds. Fathers will be evaluated on their evocative positions, creative material uses, and suitable surroundings. [37 points]
49. _____ Roll up in your best Philip Zimboni because we want to see the concept art and promotional images for the Stanford Prison Experiment.... on ice! [11 points]
50. _____ Flat Arthur marvels at the fantastical dinosaur of a Sinclair gas station, letting out a small chuckle. [Dino-four points]
51. _____ We’d like to thank Neopets® for helping us become the detail-obsessed nerds we all grew up to be by ripping off their biweekly Mystery Pic challenge. 52. _____ A series of at least four illustrations from @DRIL-TE’S INFERNO that would leave Gustave Doré shaken. [FACE GOD AND WALK BACKWARDS INTO 16 points]
53. _____ What better way to celebrate an Olympics win or a particularly successful event contribution than putting on your “smoking” jacket and retiring to your “wingback” chair next to an unlit fireplace for a snifter of “brandy”? All of which appeared out of nowhere! [Like 6 points, but you earned it]
54. _____ TBA. [9 points] ☹
55. _____ You know, everyone’s talking about all the norms Trump is breaking, but come to think of it, we don’t really remember what they looked like in the first place. Make a set of Civil Society Hummel figurines, such as Respect in Institutions, Rule of Law, and Non-Irradiated Water, that can be joylessly smashed at Judgment. [9 points per figure, max three figures]
56. _____ At the American Toby Jug Museum, the Eateorologist looks at the lovely jug between Rescue Fireman with Guardian Angel and Woman Driver. “This looks like something I made in culinary school”, they think to themselves. [7 points]
57. _____ Bold and brash? More like, an item on this page that’s revealed from being inside a large, solid cube with only a single strike from a chisel! [10 points]
58. _____ AI Ai Weiwei: a generative adversarial network that can create “new” artwork by the avant-garde conceptual artist and dissident. [28 points]
59. _____ All we’re saying is, The Phantom of the Opera has been in the public domain for a few decades, so you’d be remiss if you didn’t at least consider having him command Judge Christine Daae to sing, drop a chandelier on her at an outdoor event, arrive to an event in a boat, and make a screenshot-able cameo appearance in a video. [17 points; 0 points for hitting a Judge who isn’t Christine Daae and negative points for a Punjab lasso]
60. _____ At least three illustrated pages from the Deep State Bestiary, a medieval tome describing the bizarre and frightening government organizations one might encounter at the bottom of the sea. [12 points]
61. _____ Sculpt a miniature likeness out of extracted and isolated DNA of everyone’s favorite cat-glasses-wearing, “Hello, Possums!”-saying Australian housewife. That’s right, a Dame Edna Made of DNA. [DN18 points]

62. _____ You know that the only way to serve hors d'oeuvres fit for a King of Games is on a custom-built collapsible culinary duel disk, with different zones for the different small courses and a graveyard to dispose of leftovers. We should be able to keep our Life Points up during Judgment when you play a small snack in Attack Mode. [24 points]
63. _____ The Athletic Supporter and Eateorologist are still mad at each other from the events that transpired at the bosoms. While walking through Green Bay's Tunnel of Automatic Fish, the two refuse to talk to one another. As they search for more interactive content for their news segments, they both interact with the fish. Flat Arthur tells the rest of SUCC that the oceans prove gravity isn't real—if it were, all the fish would fall off the “spherical” Earth. [2 + 2 = fish points]
64. _____ Scav is known for its ordered events, lively discussion, hidden treats, spilled wine—heck, maybe even a bit of prayer. So, it only makes sense that this year we're asking you to bring your Scavsover Haggadah, with at least five pages filled with the story of your Scav ancestors, four questions your freshest first year could ask about why List Release is different all from other nights, and (of course) when we can finally dig in! [15th of Nisan points]
65. _____ Vroom vroom! Sometime between 7:00 p.m and 8:00 p.m. on Friday, SUCC takes turns racing a car in the back room of Scale Model Supplies in St. Paul. Be warned: if SUCC arrives too early or too late, the room will be closed. Be double warned: speeding on the track is risky! [11 points]
66. _____ World Chase Tag is probably too intense for most of us, but why should they have a monopoly on reimagined versions of our favorite childhood pastimes? Develop the rules for a new group competition based off another popular recess game, that can be played with minimal setup, and submit it to itsallscavandgames@gmail.com by 12:00 p.m. on Friday. [Tag! You're 10 points]
67. _____ In the upcoming midterm election, will we still see Pokémon™ GO to the polls? Answer this question and others in an article or two from OneFiftyOne.com, Bill's popular Pokédata journalism website. Topics can range from Aldérmon candidate polling to Pokéathlon predictions and beyond, but each article should include the same rigorous analysis and data visualizations we've grown to expect from the site. [5.38 points per article, max three articles]
68. _____ If you're anything like us, you still watch a #RIPVine compilation at least once a week. But were there really enough vines in all those delightful six-second videos? Recreate up to five of your favorite Vines using plant stop motion animation, and make sure those leafy greens capture every bit of the magic their inspirations brought us. Using the original audio is fine, but the live visuals should be entirely your own. [25 points]
69. _____ Unbeliev-fucking-able! Our expletive infixation bot seems to be on the fr-goddamn-it-z again. Make us a new one that will suggest the best curse words and placements for us as we type out a few quick angry tirades at Judg-shitting-ment. [Thir-points-ty-one]
70. _____ The new Jumanji movie did a great job of updating everyone's favorite haunted game into the digital era, but we never got to see what the video game would look like to an outside observer in all its 16-bit glory! Take on the role of mystical spirit game designer as you create at least two levels or segments of your rendition of this fraught and tropey journey. Puzzles, platformers, and adventure games are among the many genres you can draw from, but the final product should be period accurate and reflective of the source material. [26 “The Points” Johnson]
71. _____ Floam Chomsky. [2 points]
72. _____ Sure, you know the intricacies between the em dash and the en dash, but what about the wavedash? Using your editorial skills and maybe even some opinions from the pros(e), create and justify a tier list of punctuation marks, citing their common matchups and positions in the overall writing meta in your analysis. [≈ 7 points]
73. _____ Are you a twisted descendant of the Snow Elves who lived in Skyrim long ago, now banished far underground, seeking same? Have you been Khajit-fished one too many times? Well, have we got good news for you! This 30-second ad spot will show you how ♪ you don't have to be lonely at FalmersOnly.com! ♪ [An arrow to the 9 points]

- 74._____ We may or may not be lactating right now, but we sure are glad to have this cute little udder on our arm that conveniently dispenses cream for our coffee! [Lact18g points]
- 75._____ At the intersection of Railroad Avenue and Union Street in Mora, SUCC takes photos with 10 depictions of Dala horsies. Flat Arthur sits atop the miniature Dala horse. [6 points]

This year, Scav will do its part to honor this rich, velvety moment in our University's shared heritage with the First Annual Milton Friedman Pie Carving Spectacular. Bring a whole pie to the Eckhart Quad at 10:30 a.m. on Friday. After pies are tested for pie-ly goodness, the carving begins. 256. _____ In 1984 Craig and Lea Culver, along with Craig's parents George and Ruth, opened the very first Culver's in the family's beloved hometown of Sauk City, Wisconsin. In a sense it was destiny. The son of a cheeseburger and grandson of a Wisconsin farmer, George Culver spent the early part of his career inspecting and grading dairy farms for the Wisconsin Dairies Cooperative. While George was out calling on area dairy farms, Ruth Culver was home joyfully raising their three children, instilling in them the small-town, Midwest values she herself had come to know growing up in Sauk City. SUCC goes to Culver's®. [1 point]

281. _____ Breaking news! At 8:00 a.m. on Thursday, three rival newscasters from the Scav Universal Content Channel will embark on a trip across the American Midwest to produce “quality” news content. Loading into their production van whose side is proudly adorned with their network’s logo and acronym, they know that only one of them will be chosen to fill a newly vacant anchor role. First, there’s the Eateorologist, a culinary school dropout who saw the animated hit It’s Raining Meatballs! and thought they’d give weather forecasting a shot. Still an amateur reporter, they accidentally wore an entirely green outfit—on the upside, it goes well with their chef’s hat. Next is the Athletic Supporter, who isn’t sporty enough to play on the field but loves commentating from the sidelines. Wielding their pom-poms and wearing their channel-sponsored jersey, they’re ready to kick off. The third and final member of the news team, Flat Arthur, is the least likely to earn the coveted promotion to anchor. Notorious for delivering their lines flatly and for their dull clothing, they’re also a wild conspirator, as evidenced by a tin-foil hat and a clipboard with conspiracy theory petitions. Finally, they’ve taken along a mutual friend, Ax-Man on the Street, in hopes that they will periodically provide interviews for news segments. A bearded, flannel-wearing lumberjack, Ax-Man has a heart of gold and surprisingly carries no axe. With three feuding co-workers, a talkative tagalong, and lot of drama to unfold, this Road Trip will surely make headlines. [⊖ points] ☹
282. _____ Despite its title, Little Einstein never taught us anything about the big man himself. We need a video of Leo, Annie, June, Quincy, and Rocket explaining Einstein’s work on the expanding universe, the photoelectric effect, or another one of his lesser-known theories (none of that plebian general relativity bullshit) so that even five-year-old, non-STEM majors like us can understand. [ELI5 * 2 points]

285. _____ And in front of the masses at Judgment, he cried, “OFF WITH THEIR NAILS. BRING OUT THE FINGERNAIL GUILLOTINE.” We don’t want to risk any Scavvies’ corporals and privates, though, because we’re magnanimous dictators (seriously, keep all fingernails attached to living person OUT of the fingernail guillotine at all time). In return for our benevolence, however, your guillotine should be able to slice through acrylic nails or some other nail-like set of objects. [Nineteen points. Nailed it!]

293. _____ At the Lincoln-Douglas Debates Sculpture in Ottawa, the Eateorologist and the Athletic Supporter are reminded that there are more important things than their petty feud. The duo decides to make up, and they shake hands in front of the fountains. Arthur tells the group that the horizons they've seen from the production van on their journey have only confirmed the Earth's flatness. Ax-Man sighs in response. Arthur, the Athletic Supporter, and the Eateorologist get an email from their managers—the network has gone with an outside hire for the anchor position. Nobody will be getting the position, but they are content knowing they have forged valuable bonds with each other. SUCC heads home, their relationships repaired and themselves ready to return to the studio. [12 points]
294. _____ Scenes from this year's Hunt on Viewmaster[®]. BYOViewmaster[®]. [25 points]

302. _____ Find the Scavfikomen, hidden somewhere on campus. [2 points each] ☹
303. _____ The whimsical and modern kinetic kites of Tsanhuang Feng and Xianchun Peng never seem to capture the colossal and mythological nature of our imagination. Where's Apollo's chariot with wheels spinning, or Quetzalcoatl with wings flapping? Taking inspiration from ancient folklore, craft an absolutely massive kite with an original kinetic movement to be launched from the Midway. Go big or go home. [175 points] †
304. _____ This time on Scav: functional beards! Shave those hairy faces into the following functions: Thomae's, sinc, Cantor, Riemann Zeta and an iterative function of your choice. [5 points per function]

- 310._____ It's not delivery. It's Vietnamese! We were disappointed when we found out that Tank Noodle is just a normal restaurant and not a food truck-esque tank that serves and shoots noodles. Right this wrong by constructing a tank that shoots delicious Vietnamese noodles (tank and shooting mechanism may be piloted or automated). Judged on aesthetic and how far it can shoot the noodles. [36 points]
- 311._____ We've already asked you to bleed for Scav. Now we're asking you not to bleed. RULES ADDENDUM: BITPOINT REGULATIONS

The 2018 University of Chicago Scavenger Hunt Committee's Shadow Council presents the following Bitpoint rules and regulations:

1. Definition. Bitpoints are the solution. Bitpoints are the next step of human social evolution. No longer will your hard-earned labor be controlled and eroded by a shadowy Cabal of Judges. A fixed number of rare Bitpoints have been released to the discerning public by an even more shadowy Cabal ("Dredd").
2. Acquisition. Our collective has infiltrated the Judgeship and will be distributing Bitpoints throughout the Hunt. Successful participation in items marked with the € symbol may award Bitpoints alongside their utter garbage counterpart. An announcement will be made to the block-email-chain confirming receipt of any Bitpoint awarded.
3. Value. Rather than the hopelessly inflated fiat point, the value of Bitpoints is decentralized and up to you. However, the Andy Jordan Memorial Bitpoint Exchange (AJEX) will exchange Bitpoints for "real" points. The AJEX regularly updates and posts its exchange rates @AJEXchange.
4. Trading. Trading Bitpoints between teams is both legal and encouraged. This is done via a public ledger by posting messages to the block-email-chain listhost in the following format:
To offer the transaction, post:
[SENDER TEAM NAME] is sending [RECIPIENT TEAM NAME] [#] BTP for [#] Points
To accept the transaction, post:
[RECIPIENT TEAM NAME] accepts [SENDER TEAM NAME] [#] BTP for [#] Points
Transactions expire if not accepted before the next half hour mark. There is no limit to the number of transactions a team may make. Abuse among other forms of insider trading will be punished, extrajudicially.
5. Conversion. Teams may sell Bitpoints under their control to the AJEX for as long as it remains open. All sales to the AJEX are subject to a 20% processing fee and are processed at the current exchange rate. All sales to the AJEX are irreversible.
To sell Bitpoints to the AJEX, post the following to the block-email-chain:
[SENDER TEAM NAME] is selling AJEX [#] BTP at the current market rate
AJEX will check the timestamp of the email to determine how many abject filth points will be credited to your account.
6. Ledger. Please keep a ledger of your trades and acquisitions, so you don't accidentally trade Bitpoints you don't own. Your team may be audited in cases of fraud and market manipulation, so be prepared to present your books at Judgment.
7. Legality. This space intentionally left blank.
