

The 2026 University of Chicago Scavenger Hunt List

The University of Chicago Scavenger Hunt Organization Committee

7 May 2026

THE RULES OF THE HUNT

1. Items. All Items on the List can be obtained and performed legally. The Judges take no responsibility for participants whose misadventures land them in hot water, deep shit, and/or the doghouse. Be aware that doing Items nude when it's not explicitly asked for will not get you more points, nor will involving alcohol in Items that don't clearly call for alcohol. The same goes for their redheaded step-cousins, sex and drugs. Lastly, we don't like to harm creatures that can make sad eyes at us, so please treat any non-humans involved in your Items with extreme care.
2. Fair Play. Sabotage is bad. We don't like it, and we don't want it in the Hunt. Sabotaging teams or their Items can lead to immediate disqualification, and we may even let loose the hounds of the Administration on you. We expect all participants to abide by the Code of Conduct. This can be found on the next page and must be posted at all times in your team's HQ.
3. Team Captains. All Captains are asked to report to the South Lounge in Reynolds at 8:00 a.m. on Thursday for a meeting, henceforth referred to as "Gibbi Point".
4. Props. All props must, always and forever, be mad props.
5. Judgment Day. Judgment Day will take place on Sunday, starting with Showcase Items at 9:00 a.m. Regular Items—i.e. the majority of Items on the List—will be judged after Showcase. As in the Bible, Judgment Day should take, like, 45 minutes. Scav is Hell, however, so be prepared to wait. Please have a highlighted list of the Items you've acquired ready so that when a Judge comes by to judge your page, there won't be any time wasted with "do we have the particle accelerator?" questions. Judges will hold up placards (really just clipboards with Sharpied numbers) denoting which pages they are ready to judge. Call over whichever Judge corresponds to the page you are ready to present. Upon request, we may, at our discretion, come to see an Item at a time/place other than Judgment. Consider this a privilege, and use your "Come See Our Items" cards sparingly.
6. Events. In addition to Judgment Day, a variety of events are scheduled to take place over the period of the Hunt. Times and locations may be stated on the List or provided to Captains at Gibbi Point.
7. A Good Time. For a good time, call (202) 762-1401.
8. Contact With Judges. Judges may respond to inquiries as needed, but don't expect us to just hand out all the answers. Please only communicate with the Judges if you are going to do so in a civil manner. Generally, just remember that the more people shout, the less will be understood. That seems like it makes sense, no?
9. Points. Point totals are final. We ask you to do awesome things and expect awesome things to be done. If you do said awesome things, the Judge will accord to you Full Points, the highest number of points possible for any Item. In rare cases—for example, if we ask for a car and you give us the Batmobile with both George Clooney and Adam West inside—we will consider giving you one special point. Maybe two. As far as point values, well, we use a dartboard, numberwang, and Tibetan numerology to determine how much Items are worth, so no complaining that "the lazy eye patch was worth more than the moonbounce made of guns!"
10. AI. Don't use it.
11. Digital Items. If an Item is followed by , it must be uploaded to our Google Drive folder by 10:00 p.m. on Saturday. Only submissions following the file naming convention of "PAGE #. ITEM #. TEAM NAME." will be accepted.
12. Rules. Ain't no rule says Oshawott can't be a Judge.
13. Prizes. Depending on how much of the Scav budget the Judge Cabal hasn't spent on Choles for our holes, you may be eligible for a free-food bacchanal or other in-kind prize. Offer void where prohibited. Check local laws.
14. Decisions. All decisions of the Judges are final.
15. Final. See Decisions.

CODE OF CONDUCT

1. It is expected that no participant of The Great Hunt, Judge or otherwise, will exhibit gross misconduct or behavior that is inappropriately detrimental to Scavvies, Judges, outsiders, or Scav Hunt as a whole. Some examples of inappropriate behavior specifically targeted by this policy include, but are not limited to: hazing, bullying, harassment, discrimination, aiding and abetting, collusion, sabotage, poisoning your teammates, lighting a teammate on fire, treating your team's dorm HQ like an Airbnb, and inappropriately making the Hunt worse for others. Such behavior can take place in public Scav spaces like events, in intra- and inter-team interactions, and/or in forums such as the Discord and email listhosts. Note that "being an unlikeable prick" does not necessarily fall under this rule, but it can at the discretion of the Judges.
2. The Judge Cabal serves to facilitate the Scav Hunt, and while we hope all Scavvies have a wonderful time, our reach and power is limited, particularly with regard to conflicts within teams or between individual Scavvies. It is the Judgeship's responsibility to deal with misconduct by Judges; for misconduct by Scavvies, the Judges are only one recourse of several. There are existing resources that are more empowered to deal with shit than we are. That being said, we cannot address problems we do not know about. If you are unsure, please reach out to us.
3. Appropriate channels:
 - A. Things we (the Judges) would like to know about: Cheating; misconduct (as defined in Section 1) that occurs without Judges present; misconduct by Judges; your Captains are being jerks; your teammates are being jerks and your Captains aren't doing anything about it; intrateam conflicts (medium to serious).

An elder Judge who is not judging Items in the Hunt is responsible for handling Code of Conduct violations. They can be contacted at scavcodeofconductjudge@gmail.com. If you are attempting to report a Code of Conduct violation by that very same Judge, contact the Head Judge instead. For reasons of impartiality, reports to other Judges will be redirected.
 - B. Should a Judge exhibit any misbehavior/misconduct, we will: follow up to discuss with relevant parties; disallow their participation in the remainder of the Hunt if necessary; in extreme cases, expel them from the Cabal and report to the Administration.

Should we witness a participant exhibiting any misbehavior/misconduct, we may: ask them to leave the area; restrict them from Scav spaces; revoke relevant Scav privileges (see Section 4); contact Captains; in extreme cases, report to the Administration.

Should we witness or have reports of a team exhibiting collective misbehavior/misconduct, we may: issue a warning to Captains; deduct points should the behavior be related to an Item; revoke relevant Scav privileges (see Section 4); in extreme cases, immediately disqualify the team.
 - C. Things your Captains should know about: Intrateam conflicts (minor); fires; how unfair you think pointing is; how impossible an item is, et cetera.
 - D. Things you might want to tell your RA/RH/RD/Retc. about, if you're in a dorm: Fires.
 - E. Things the administration should know about: Serious shit. We have to report it, and so do you. We encourage you to reach out to the Cabal or your residential staff if you need assistance with reporting.
4. Scav Privileges: Access to the Scav Discord; access to the Listhost; recognition as Captain (e.g. counting for events, Judgment); recognition as a team; participation in the Hunt.

Scav Olympics

Scav Olympics will be held at 10:00 a.m. on Saturday, May 9th on the Eckhart Quad. For each competition, 30 points will be awarded for 1st place; 20 points for 2nd place; 10 points for 3rd place; 2 points for > 3rd place.

2. _____ Coinhole.
3. _____ Limbo 2.
4. _____ Honestly, it's not for everyone.
5. _____ Lady and the Tramp, but also kind of Airs Bud. Kissing optional, sports not.

Showcase Items

Showcase items are a few Items each Hunt that are a cut above in terms of complexity and points awarded. Showcase Items will be judged at Showcase, which will be at 9:00 a.m. on Sunday in the Ida Noyes courtyard. Choose no more than two of the following Items to present at Showcase. Each Showcase Item is worth up to 180 points for awe-inspiring, truly exceptional completions.

1. _____ Here at Scav Hunt, we ring in Judgment Day with MORE COWBELL! Bring your ScavvenSilvesterklaus to join the chorus at Showcase wearing their custom huube. Their (safely wearable) colossal headdress should feature intricately beaded patterns and a diorama of miniature figures depicting a Sidechat-famous anecdote from life at the UBC. Whether they'd consider themselves the pretty one, the ugly one, or the pretty-ugly one, they should complete the outfit with a bell-bedecked harness. They can be replicas instead of functional instruments, but you'll get MORE COWBELL points for BIGGER COWBELLS.
2. _____ ʘ· PIEROGI GASHAPON MACHINEEEEEEE ✨ ✨ (˘>˘<˘) ʘʘ chibi artwork of the different fillings we can pull? SUPER CUTE (T~T).ʘʘ ʘʘ secret rare pulls with unique fillings? SO TASTYYYYY ʘʘ (˘w˘˘)ʘʘ dumpling-shaped tokens that activate the machine? AWAAA ʘ (ʘ ʘ) ʘ ʘʘ ʘʘ ʘʘ and some sour cream and caramelized onions for good measure too hehehe (*˘˘˘) ʘʘ ˘˘*˘ʘʘ!!
3. _____ We're shooting our infant into space next week, and she needs a space-themed activity cube to prepare for her spacefaring adventures. The activity cube, minimum one foot on each side, should feature an interactive bead diagram of space to teach navigation. The remaining four sides should help with translating alien languages, breathing in low-oxygen environments, grappling with the impenetrable loneliness of space, and one activity of your choosing.
4. _____ Haven't got time to stop by the psychic? Never fear, there's always an ATM near! When activated, your team's Automated Tarot Machine should ask the user for their guiding question and dispense a non-random, unique three-card reading, complete with an interpretation of the cards and dramatic mystical magical sound effects. 🎵

Items

1. _____ A copy of the 2026 University of Chicago Scavenger Hunt List. [1 point]
2. _____ Many will tell you that the true meaning of Scav is friendship and love, but you know the truth: Scav is nothing less than kingdoms at war, your Captains the bloodstained leaders. For your team's Sovereign, construct an Iron Throne. Of course, your throne is treacherous to sit upon, reflects the central motifs of your team, and is mobile. Bring your throne to the Bartlett Trophy Lounge at 12:30 p.m. on Saturday to show off how well it suits your Sovereign Captain and to intimidate the competition. [30 points]
3. _____ TBA. [6 points]
4. _____ Drippiest outfit—We want it OOZING. [5 points]
5. _____ Send your athleticest Scavvie to run around the quad continuously. [3.1 points per mile, no fucking limit]
6. _____ In the dark depths of your HQ stands a large mirror that successfully reflects this page's Judge, but your team's vampiric Scavvie is suspiciously uncaptured. [18.97 stniop]
7. _____ A Mrinal Sen lost film, found. [71 points]
8. _____ According to Magic: The Gathering canon, mana comes from tapping the land, a card showing the snapshot of a terrain. Build five terrains, NOT CARDS, that you can tap to cast Judge Blast (*💧👁️👁️👁️) "Gain [30 Points]."
9. _____ Scav takes place on the traditional homelands of the Anishinaabe, or the Council of the Three Fires: the Ojibwe, Odawa, and Potawatomi Nations. Many other Nations consider this area their traditional homeland, including the Myaamia, Ho-Chunk, Menominee, Sac and Fox, Peoria, Kaskaskia, Wea, Kickapoo, and Mascouten. Considering this, Land Back. [4 points per acre]
10. _____ The Biden of Isaac, a functional mod. [9.1979 brimpoints]
11. _____ Underground music: music celebrating the underdepths written, produced, and recorded fully underground. You already KNOW doing it in a boring basement don't count. [11 points]
12. _____ A sent or received breakup text so humiliating that it's not even worth the points to show us, but you do it anyway. Must have occurred before the Hunt. [3 points]
13. _____ We know you wanna Scav like there's no tomorrow, but y'all have finals!!! You gotta study!!! In the Reg!!! For as long as possible!!! With no breaks!!! [1 points per consecutive hour livestreamed residing in the Joseph Regenstein Library during the Hunt]
14. _____ A piece of one of your Scavvies' bones. Teeth ain't bones. [20.6 points]

20. _____ Olm simulator. [15 proteoints]
21. _____ We are pleased to introduce the first ever Scav Case Competition at 12:00 p.m. on Thursday in South Lounge! All undergraduate members and alumni of any on-campus consulting RSO are eligible. Participants will be pitted against each other to test their critical thinking, knowledge, and strategic problem-solving potential. Top participants will be awarded prizes ranging from [10 to 15 points] in value, as well as a networking session with senior executives from the Judgship. Business formal required.

- 39._____ Your HQ's bartender must be able to mix a variety of drinks with style, pour a beverage with a nice frothy head, and—when requested—sling a full glass down the incongruously long bar right into the hand of a thirsty Judge. [The Town with 12 Points]
- 40._____ In the Quantum Orbital Model of Bus Seating, passengers on a bus fill in the rows in accordance with the Aufbau Principle and Hund's Rule. Through your observations of passenger dynamics, create an orbital energy diagram for at least two distinct bus seat layouts in active CTA usage. Use your theorized orbital structures to predict absorption/emission spectra and possible mechanisms for bus-bus bonds. [4 + 2*n* points for n distinct seat layouts]
- 41._____ A stand-up comedian, live on stage at a comedy gig, making fun of your team specifically. [13 points for a clip no longer than 90 seconds]
- 42._____ Sick and tired of picking crab meat out of the shell bit by bit? No longer! Meet the hand-held Crabcuum (Crab Vacuum)! [1 point per ounce extracted, 2 bonus points if it has one of those clear plastic chambers only it's full of butter for the crab meat to whirl around in]
- 43._____ Scav will forgive David M. Rubenstein for replacing Ida Noyes Hall with some building named after himself if he simply changes his legal name to Ida Noyes. [5 points if he credits your team for convincing him]
- 44._____ Pushed pork. [1 point]
- 45._____ Your team's Cartoonish Antagonist has just set up an elaborate trap to finally outwit that rascally Judge once and for all! Unfortunately for them, when the Judge takes the bait, the trap will inevitably backfire in a hilariously slapstick fashion. [23 points]
- 46._____ Help! I need to get this replication package to the data editor by Sunday, but the documentation my RA left is pretty cryptic. The files can be found on our website. Please, I need this for tenure! [14.44444444 points]
- 47._____ The footage appears to be from the perspective of a Scavvie who is exploring their HQ and documenting their observations with a hand-held recording device. The HQ is quiet and devoid of any signs of life. As the exploration progresses, the architecture of the HQ grows increasingly uncanny. This phenomenon progresses to the point that the apparent layout of the building becomes physically impossible. At the five-minute mark, the Scavvie drops the recording device for unclear reasons and the recording ends. The footage has been digitized and submitted to the Judges for analysis. [15 liminal points]
- 48._____ Samples of dryer lint in the following colors: Cosmic Latte, Cheap Mattress, Zomp, Blurple, and a team member's eye color. [3 points each]
- 49._____ The real reason all those photos of Bigfoot come out so blurry is because the shadow government deploys crack teams of secret agents to hold sheets of translucent material in front of cryptid hunters whenever they try to take a picture. When Judge Cryptozoologist spots your team's cryptid at a major event and fumbles for his phone, your team's agents will be ready. [22 points]
- 50._____ Your smile lights up a room, primarily because of that doohickey you created which turns on a light upon grinning. [18 brilliant points]
- 51._____ A vehicle, capable of transporting at least one Judge, whose internal combustion engine is using the wrong fluids. [10 points for the wrong coolant, 14 points for the wrong fuel, 20 points for the wrong lubricant]
- 52._____ This year's GAstronomical ScavvenPhyst will be out of this world! It's a shame that your amuse-bouche got so close to that black hole, but please still serve each Judge one slurpable spaghettified hors d'oeuvre. Next: taste the rainbow? We want to taste the Cosmic Microwaveable Background! Build a gourmet salad featuring temperature variations befitting the universe's relic radiation. Whether shocked in an ice bath or roasted over high flame, your produce should be artfully arranged into an anisotropic vegetable map according to their cooking heats. As a main course, take us into the crust of a neutron star by serving us your accurately-shaped nuclear pasta (or lasagne, or gnocchi, or anti-gnocchi). For dessert, we'd like a flight of baryon parfaits. Craft flavors of up, down, strange, charm, top, and bottom quarks to layer together in the correct proportions to compose at least three baryons. One flavor should use fresh dairy (such as ricotta, labneh, or—duh—quark). [Ω points]

- 53._____ TBA.
- 54._____ Even the grasses and trees will become enlightened. We know because we've seen it for ourselves in your heart-wrenching edible diorama of Itō Jakuchū's Vegetable Nirvana. [8Suddha points]
- 55._____ Find, console, and appropriately reward an Olympic athlete who came in 4th place. [20 pewter points]
- 56._____ A nightmarehouse in your HQ, à la Brion Gysin. [33 points]
- 57._____ We've all seen the videos: you approach people on the street with an oversized map, and half of them can't even name a single country! We're concerned, but we also don't want to be manipulated by a cherry-picked sample. Thankfully, science is all about replication. We're looking forward to your appropriately rigorous two-minute video report and accompanying write-up on the state of the pedestrian public's geographical knowledge. [17 stratified random sampling points]
- 58._____ Your favorite piece in the Art Institute, as depicted by a slime mold. [19 points]
- 59._____ We're really goddamn jealous of pigeons. How come their umwelt gets to include magnetic fields?? And not ours??? Fix this. We don't care how. [33 points]
- 60._____ Reverse theft! Get a store to sell you something that you already own. [4 points for a receipt documenting the sale of something they could plausibly have in stock, 14 points for something they absolutely could not]
- 61._____ [stnoip 12.21] A crab cannon. .nonnac barc A [12.21 points]
- 62._____ Moloch whose mind is pure machinery! Moloch whose blood is running money! Moloch whose fingers are ten armies! Moloch whose breast is a cannibal dynamo! Moloch who really deserves a shrine in Saieh! [19.56 points]
- 63._____ It seems really unfair that James Clerk Maxwell predicted the existence of radio waves without ever getting to be on them. Maybe a modern radio station would pick up your remix of his masterwork, "The Song of the Atlantic Telegraph Company"? [u points for the song, $2(u)$ points for the broadcast]
- 64._____ A gift from a crow. [15 corvoints]
- 65._____ Black hat and white hat hackers are soooo 21st century. Your team's golden hat hacker has an entirely new combination of ethical justifications and Bronze Age-appropriate hacking techniques! Send them to our Bronze Age hackathon at Crerar Quad on Saturday at 3:00 p.m. wearing their tallest replica Golden Cone of Ezelsdorf-Buch, engraved with computational sigils that'll help them in the collaborative challenge to come. [3 points per self-supporting foot of golden hat height, no fucking limit + up to 14 points for hackathon participation based on performance]
- 66._____ We like reading, but we don't like having opinions. That's why when we finish a non-fiction book, we read a book written by someone else to refute it. And then we read a book written to refute that one. And then... [0.505 points per book in the chain]
- 67._____ Hyde Park's premier cultural institution, the Hall of Jellyfish, restored to its former glory in your HQ. Ever since those GOP puritans got rid of the 19th-century erotica, it's never been the same. But now: no more Mitch McConnell, and no more trashbag jellyfish. Leave our cares forgotten among the lilies, and show us the Hall in all its original splendor! [70 points]
- 68._____ Pure examples of Camp are unintentional; they are dead serious. The Scavvie who carves lions and crosses into a wooden cooking spoon is not kidding, nor are they trying to be charming. They are saying, in all earnestness: Voilà! The Occident!¹ [12.1 occidentalist points]
- 69._____ The smell inside the U-505 Submarine. [10 U-boints]
- 70._____ You know those tall, cylindrical lighting fixtures that flank each crossing of the Midway? I had a dream once where they were instead a piece of world-famous art called The Flutes. Hollow inside and dotted with cheerful chaotic holes, they made beautiful music when the wind blew. I woke up convinced: Chicago needs a monumentalist wind instrument, and it needs it fast. [40 really really big points]

¹Sontag, Susan. Notes on "Camp". Penguin UK, 2018.

- 71._____ A first-edition copy of Batman: Damned 1. [12 batpenisoints]
- 72._____ Big Klarna. [0.25 points, paid in installments]
- 73._____ Highest unnatural body temperature at Judgment. [9.85 points]
- 74._____ Students,
 Your midterms have been graded and you all received an F. In my magnanimity, at 2:00 p.m. in Kent 120 on Saturday, there will be an optional test to make up for this failure. Bring a writing utensil, paper, and your memory of the Fast franchise. Of course, we've all seen The Fast and the Furious and Fast & Furious, but students wishing to receive a passing grade will additionally familiarize themselves with the 5th, 7th, and 9th installments in the series. Students hoping to excel will, of course, have closely studied every movie.
 Do not disappoint me further, Professor Judge [(fast) 27 points]
- 75._____ Wow, it's really incredible how lightning-rod-like that Scavvie is—lanky, conductive, prone to getting struck by lightning, etc. [44 points]
- 76._____ Gnomecore! It's the new craze—all the kids are gnoming at the mouth! Gnomecore! I'm gnoing insaaane! Gnomecore! [8 gnoints]
- 77._____ A groutfit. [10 points. Real fucking grout gets real fucking points.]
- 78._____ Scones with bones. [8 boint scoints]
- 79._____ God gives his most gourmet Scavvies his most mysterious concoctions. Send this Scavvie to Bartlett Trophy Lounge at 3:00 p.m. on Thursday. [18 points]

- 84._____ TBA. [7 degrees celsius points]

- 86._____ You think your life is hard? Think of the poor NWS interns who have to blow up the weather balloons using a multi-ended straw! [12 points]
- 87._____ Your team's most *Fredthemovie*pilled Scavvie and their army of "friends" waiting for our arrival. [9 points. Real fucking mannequins get real fucking mannequoints.]
- 88._____ We gave Harper eyes already, so why don't we give Pick a nose and some fingers to... y'know 🤪👉 [14 points]
- 89._____ The all-new #am-i-the-scavhole channel in our Discord server should provide catharsis for the frustrated Scavvie in all of us, and a place to finally find out if you were wrong in an argument that's been bothering you. Post about any non-violent conflict you have experienced during the Hunt; give us both sides of the story, and find out if you're right, or you're the Scavhole. [3 points for vindication, -3 points if you are the Scavhole]
- 90._____ Smoke a fag! Wait, hold on, let us clarify. First, you need to assemble a roll-your-own, but the rolling paper should be torn from a Larry Kramer novel. Second, you need to prepare some traditional English meatballs on one of those Big Green Eggs or an equivalent device, and you should light that fire with the handrolled ciggie from earlier. And, of course, you are dressed like a giant cigarette. While running. [8 points, 4 bonus points if all portions of this item occur in a single-take video] 📺
- 91._____ ScavGround. [250 points]

- 97._____ [20 Kate Points]

- 102._____ Lucky that your breasts are small and humble / so we don't confuse 'em with mountains / however Team Judge's boobs are ginormous / so provide us a bra that doubles as a topographic map of the Andes. [8.0085 points, and that's the deal, my dear]
- 103._____ Sul sul, o vva vwaf sna! Why let the plumbob have all the fun? Each of your team's Captains should have a different surveying-tool-shaped indicator appearing to hover above their head at all times—and don't forget that it should change at least once during the Hunt to reflect their sanity meter or Scav lifestate (wabadabadoo!). [10 points per day worn]
- 104._____ Proven participation in any of the Scav collabs this school year. [2 points per attendee per event]

- 108._____ LADIES AND GENTLEMEN... WE GIVE YOU... KONG!!! And in return, you give us a video clip of the ninth wonder of the world, the King of Kong, asserting that your Scav team could out-Kong another Scav team of your choosing at the Kong-off any Konging day. [12 Konging points]

- 113._____ A printed setlist from a concert held within the duration of the Hunt. [8 points]
- 114._____ You know what they say: you always have to inspect what you expect. At your New York City (Hyde Park) apartment (HQ), ex-Mayor Eric Adams (this page’s Judge) will inspect a subset of your family’s (team’s) inconspicuous house decor (Items), in order to ensure that your kids (Scavvies) are not harboring guns, illegal drugs, or other contraband paraphernalia (Red Vines). [15 popular knapsack with many different points]
- 115._____ How will we know what your team stands for (especially without a hot pink T-shirt laying it out for us!) if you don’t have a massive multicolored yard sign outside of your HQ outlining the extremely esoteric and specific moral standpoints your team holds? By 10:00 a.m. Thursday, sign up for your team’s afternoon filming time slot and show genre using this spreadsheet.
